Harbor area community leaders are sharing responsibility for the proper functioning of the Harbor Welfare Federation, whose job it is to determine health, welfare and youth needs to be met by Community Chest agencies.

This was reported by membership committee chairman Stan Sweeney, of San Pedro, at a recent meeting of the federation's board of directors held at the Chamber of Commerce in Torrance. George Bradbeer, chairman of the Harbor Area Welfare Board, presided.

Sweeney reported acceptance of membership committee posts by the following, representing their respective communities:

Vincent Metzger, Gardena; William Cowan, Lomita-Harbor City; Mrs. Donald Armstrong, Palos Verdes Estates; L. C. Stevenson, San Pedro; John Ebberhouse, Torrance, and Walter Hoeslein, Wilmington. Mrs. John Camlin III will share responsibility for Rolling Hills pending further appointments, Sweeney said.

Other special committees set up within the board are the program committee, headed by Mrs. Camlin, and the agency study committee headed by T. A. Crosswhite of San Pedro.

Others attending the board meeting were the Rev. Arthur T. Kent of Wilmington; Mrs. Arthur Ackerson, Arthur Pegg Sr., Kersey Starny and Rodney Smith, all of San Pedro; A. A. Goyette of Gardena, and Dr. Ernest Tarr of Torrance.

Airman, Ex-Marine, Now On Duty At Michigan Base

Air Force T/Sgt. Reynold Tracy, son of Mrs. Adeline Tracy, of 5209 Carson St., currently is stationed at Selfridge Air Force Base in Michigan.

Tracy, a veteran of World War II, is air operations supervisor in the Inspector General's office of the 10th Air Force.

The 10th, under Maj. Gen. Robert E. Eaton, maintains the combat readiness of air reservists and supervises Air National Guard training in 13 midwest states.

Tracy was sent to Selfridge AFB after a two-year stint at the Long Beach Municipal Airport as an aircraft dispatcher with the 2347th Air Reserve Flying Center. His 11-year military career includes duty as a World War II infantryman in the South Pacific with the 1st Marine Division.

After the war he worked for a Los Angeles cabinet company. He re-enlisted, this time with the Air Force, in 1948.

Among his duty assignments with the USAF were Military Air Transport Service, at McChord AFB, Tacoma, Wash., and Johnston AFB in the Pacific; and Strategic Air Command, at Carswell AFB, Texas, and Walker AFB, Roswell, N. M.

Tracy's wife, Tommye, and son Stephen, 6, have joined him at the Michigan base.

Scott Twins Graduated At Academy

Graduated from the Brown Military Academy in San Diego last Friday were Charles and Richard Scott, twin sons of James H. Scott, 1326 Border Ave.

Both boys had been active in school affairs and sports, with Richard winning all-league baseball honors this year and Charles winning the same honors last year. Both played football and basketball at the Academy.

Scott, attending the graduation exercises at the school, reported that the ceremony was very impressive, especially the traditional flag ceremony in which the graduating seniors present the flag to the junior class.

Richard hopes to attend West Point, and Charles will go on to college, probably UCLA, their father said. They have attended the Academy for five years.

A touching scene in Friday's rites was the affection demonstrated to the house mother by the graduates, Scott said. Each of the boys made a special effort to share their thrill with her and she obviously regarded each as her son, Scott reported.

Beer Can Yields $30 To Burglars

About $30 in cash was taken from an empty beer can last week when burglars entered the home of the John P. Kerber family, at 25518 Narbonne Ave., Lomita.

Kerber, 51, told authorities he had left for the afternoon and that the house had been entered between 1 p.m. and 5 p.m. Burglars cut a screen on a kitchen window, then slid open the unlocked window to gain entrance, sheriff's deputies said.

Authorities reported that the type of entrance and theft indicated the intruders were familiar with the home and the habits of the Kerbers.
